Programs: Palmer Public Library is proud to announce we made it through January! In an effort to provide programming during winter break, we kicked the mont h off with a movie marathon with tons of popcorn. Eagle River Nature Center visited to conduct a program that allowed patrons to dissect an owl pellet. The program was fantastic, as it was open to all ages and made fun work of educating the audience about owl biology.

Friends of the Palmer Library kicked off a Saturday Storytime series that spotlights community service members. Sargent Szipszky came in to read stories, answer questions, and take pictures with those who attended. It was a smashing success and is scheduled to continue through April.

This past month also saw the return of our regularly scheduled programs, which our patrons seemed enthusiastic to return to as well!
